XHTML 03
Exercise Worksheet

Exercise 1: Define a style that is applied to all paragraphs and changes the font to a sans-serif font that is 16pt and bold.

Exercise 2: Define a style that is applied to all text in the body of the document and changes the font to small caps.

Exercise 3: Use a style sheet to define the styles required to make all the text in the body of the document sans-serif, all the headings small caps, and all the paragraphs of test small size.
Exercise 4: Use a style sheet to define the styles required to make the background of the entire page silver, and the text coloured black. All the headings on the page should have a background colour of black and the heading text should be white.

Exercise 5: Define a style which makes the text colour green. Write a fragment of XHTML code that applies the style you have defined to the word “grass” in the sentence “The grass is green.”

Exercise 6: Given the following style sheet:

```
<style>
.bgblack { background-color: black; color: white; }
#txtupper { text-transform: uppercase; }
</style>
```

Write the xhtml code that will create a paragraph of text that has both of the styles applied.
