

Dear Cris:

We wish you a wonderful week of February 20. With all the scientist friends around, coming to your workshop, you will have an opportunity to reflect on your so successful scientific life. Knowing you, you will also have an opportunity to come with a whole bunch of interesting problems to work on!

We are sad and frustrated that we cannot share this week with you, but that's outside of our control.

BIG HUGS,

Bolgani + Maja
